Decoration Techniques

Pad Printing – An inked image is transferred from a photo-etched plate to a thick, soft, silicone pad, which is then pressed against the product. One Pantone colour is printed at a time, and suitable for most designs with tight registration.

Screen Printing – The direct imprinting of a design onto the surface of a product. Image is pressed through tensioned nylon mesh, leaving a paint-like appearance. Sharper imprint than pad printing. Available on a select range of products.

Laser Engraving – A permanent decoration technique. Light burns an image into a substrate. Works best when the item's surface is a different colour than the substrate.

Debossing / Embossing – Techniques in which a metal die is created from artwork. The die is then heat-pressed onto the material, leaving an image of the artwork in recess (Debossing) or a 3D effect (Embossing) as the impression is raised. Metal products are embossed by stamping the material with the die.

Epoxy Dome – A thick clear polyurethane coating applied directly to a decorated product.

Embroidery – A traditional method of decorating textiles with needle and coloured thread. Available for some plush items indent.

4 Colour Process (4CP)

Digital Direct Print – Photo quality images and graphics printed directly onto a broad range of products using specialist inkjet printers, producing spectacular results. Four colour process (CMYK) artwork required - white ink is laid down as a 5th colour if needed.

Digital Standard Label – A laser printer reproduces the image in CMYK onto pre-cut gloss White paper labels. Labels are hand applied. Die cutting is available on vinyl deluxe labels.

Digital Transfer Print – Nucolour – Suitable for detailed and multi-colour imprints. A computer printer uses special inks to create CMYK transfers designed to be applied to products using heat.

Digital Sublimation Print – A technique using specialist inkjet printer that transfers a CMYK image directly onto materials using heat.

IMPORTANT – Items illustrated are to show personalisation techniques and not to imply they have been supplied to owners of the particular trademark. Personalised items are only for sale to the owners of that particular trademark. Some colours may vary from shipment to shipment – if colour is critical request sample and include with order. Stipples and screens are best avoided on spot, screen and pad printed items. Refer artwork for acceptance prior to committing delivery (if in doubt). Whilst every effort is made to ensure accuracy of colours in these products, they should be used as a guide only. Product colours depicted may vary from actual products due to photographic reproduction. As we continue to improve our range changes may be made without prior notice.
